

BANK MAY SOON BE RE-OPENED

Los Angeles Attorney Visits Tombstone to Look Over First National Affairs

TOMBSTONE, Oct. 1.—With the purpose in view of reopening the First National bank of Tombstone, which closed its doors a little over a month ago, after a thorough investigation it proves to be feasible, Attorney William A. Bowen, of the firm of Flint, MacKay & Bowen, of Los Angeles, representing Mrs. Mary M. Costello, arrived in Tombstone today. Bowen accompanied Bank Examiners McCann and Brewer, who have been conferring with him in Los Angeles.

Bowen has recently returned from Washington, where he went over the affairs of the bank at the office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Bowen states that the offer of support, in case of reopening, recently made by the depositors, is much appreciated by Mrs. Costello and himself, and that with the friendly cooperation of all parties he feels that a plan may be worked out whereby the bank can be opened and the money of the depositors be assured.

To accomplish this he desires to

Old Newspaper Is Filled With News Of Famous Events

James Munroe, one of the early press ideals of the United States, declared the war of 1812 cost the United States $120,000,000. This statement was made in President Monroe's inaugural address, found in state papers of the chief executives of the country and brought to light in the district by a copy of the Feliciana (Louisiana) Gazette, under date of April 17, 1821. The paper is the property of R. B. McIlroy of Lowell.

The paper in question, printed on linen, rather yellow with age, but in a remarkable state of preservation, deals with other subjects of the day. The speech of Munroe, however, occupied many columns of its four pages. In addition to old Louisiana papers, McIlroy, who is a merchant in Lowell, has other interesting papers and documents dating back before the war of the states.

confer freely with the depositors and to avail himself of the co-operation which they have offered. He expects to remain here as long as may be necessary to find out whether his object can be accomplished, and if so, to reopen the bank on plans satisfactory to the depositors and to the Comptroller of the Currency; and in that event he feels sure that the bank will be an institution of permanent usefulness to the community.

At a meeting of a large number of depositors of the bank held last night matters in general affecting the depositors were discussed and it was the general opinion of depositors present that if anything could be done toward reopening the bank they would pledge their future support, and the statement of Bowen, attorney for Mrs. Costello, issued today, comes as encouraging news to the depositors and old friends of the bank.

Soon after arrival today the gentlemen started work of investigation, which will continue for several days at least before anything will be determined, and the statement of Mr. Bowen issued this afternoon will be received with no little interest by those who have maintained that the bank's situation would be solved and the institution reopened on a sound basis.

Until the result of the present investigation by Mrs. Costello's attorneys is ascertained, further information will hardly be available and a number of the largest depositors interviewed this afternoon stated they were gratified to learn that practically all depositors interested, little or big, were ready to back the bank if it should reopen.

Around The County

Interesting items about persons, events and conditions from Tombstone, Willcox, Pearce, Dos Cabezas, Douglas, and other towns in Cochise county, gathered together each day by The Review's "out-of-town-news editor."

SLIGHTLY INJURED

COCHISE—J. C. Larkins happened to a painful accident recently when his horse stepped into a badger hole, falling and throwing the rider to the ground and in getting up in some manner pawed Mr. Larkins with his hoofs. He was badly bruised and shaken up but fortunately no bones were broken.

Shipping Cattle

WILLCOX—Johnson & Cook are shipping about 17 carloads of cattle from this and surrounding points this week. Page & Mischnier have recently purchased 2500 head of steer and 500 cows for which they have a market. Cattle movements will be heavy from now on. Prior to this most of the cattle shipped were calves and fat cows. There was little market for steers, but this has now changed.

Another Accident

WILLCOX—The eldest boy of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sweet was thrown from his horse Friday and sustained severe bruises. He received a couple of bad scalp wounds which were sewed up by the doctor, and lost one tooth while three or four other teeth were broken. Whether the horse stepped on him or not he does not seem to know. No bones were broken and he is recovering rapidly. This is the third accident recently of this kind. The first happened to Murray Johnson, the second to J. B. Cook and the third to the Sweet boy. It is hoped that the spell of the jinx is broken.

Working On Bridge

BENSON—Work is progressing on the Benson bridge. The 100 foot old steel bridge is to be used on the west end and one pier placed in the center of the river. This pier will be made of piling which will be incased in cement. A new steel span will be erected on the east side of the pier. The entire work is being done by the county and will cost between $5000 and $7000. It will take at least six weeks more to complete the work.

Refuses Appointment

DOUGLAS—Alfred Paul has refused a place on the national advisory board of Vassar College, an organization recently formed to obtain funds to make the college one of the leading schools of the world. Paul was tendered the place by H. M. McCracken, an educator of national reputation. In refusing the appointment Paul said that he did not feel that he had the time to devote to the work. He said he would make sacrifices if the government was to be benefited, but did not feel that he had the right to neglect his business interests for a private enterprise.

The board will attempt to secure donations amounting to about $300,000.00. It will consist of 100 men, chosen from every section of the United States.
